

Meet Your PAXEM STUDIO Designer

ANNA SMITH

Anna Smith is a Chicago native with a passion for interior design and serving her clients as best as possible. Her love for design was born during a year and a half spent living in Southern Germany and Austria, inspired by its architecture, fashion, food, and art. Anna has also spent time living in Denmark and Taiwan. All of these cultural influences play a large role in Anna's aesthetic and how she views interior spaces.

After getting her undergraduate degree from Brigham Young University, Anna returned to Chicago, where she worked for two high-end residential firms in the heart of the city. She has spent countless hours getting to know the showrooms and vendors at Chicago's famous Merchandise Mart to source the best of the best for her clients. In addition to having an eye for design, Anna completed a technical course in AutoCAD and is able to build out renderings to assist clients in visualizing the possibilities their spaces have. Anna has also worked as an interior stylist, helping create furniture plans and accessorize spaces to ensure a welcoming and cohesive set-up down to every last throw pillow.

Ultimately, Anna's goal is to make your space feel like home. She is passionate about her clients and executing a design that they love.
